rial male sang 6 June – 2 July 2005 (The Loon 78:30, 78:44).

- Eurasian Tree Sparrow, 15 April 2007, Virginia, St. Louis County (record #2007-016, vote 7-0).

Seventh state record. Photographed.

The following records were Not Accepted. Please note that a record which is Not Accepted only means that the documentation was not complete or convincing enough to include the sighting in The Loon, the journal of the MOU, or in the MOU's archives of confirmed bird records. Such a vote does not necessarily mean the observer misidentified the bird or did not see it. Summaries of the reasons why a record was Not Accepted are included here. These are in no way intended to be critical of the observer. The only purpose is to highlight the difficulties an observer may encounter while identifying or documenting these and similar species.

- Glossy Ibis (Plegadis falcinellus), 30 August 2006, Folsom Township, Traverse County (record #2006-108, vote 1–6).

The single submitted photograph did not show purple iridescence in the wing coverts and the bird's crissum could not be seen. Committee members were not convinced that the bird was an adult. Written documentation, which could have addressed questions about the bird's age and the possibility of hybridization, was not submitted in support of this record.

- White-faced Ibis (Plegadis chibi), 29 April – 1 May 2007, two subadults among flock southwest of Madison, Lac Qui Parle County (record #2007-019, vote 3–4).

- Black Vulture (Coragyps atratus), 10 April 2007, county road 12 near US highway 169, Mille Lacs County (record #2007-015, vote 3–4).

The majority was concerned that dark morph buteos and other raptor species were not considered and eliminated. Field notes were not submitted.

- Swallow-tailed Kite (Elanoides forficatus), 14 May 2007, state highway 210 at county road 1, Cass County (record #2007-031, vote 0–7).

The description was limited to “distinctive black and white wings on the underside.” It was unanimously felt that a more complete description that included size, tail shape, and other aspects of its plumage would be needed.

- Gyrfalcon (Falco rusticolus), 15 Deember 2006, near Virginia, St. Louis County (record #2007-009, vote 3–4).

- Prairie Falcon (F. mexicanus), 20 January 2007, near Luverne, Rock County (record #2007-007, vote 2–5).

- Prairie Falcon, 20 February 2007, West Union Township, Todd County (record #2007-008, vote 1–6).

Though possibly identified correctly, all three of the above falcons were observed without optics from moving vehicles on major highways.

- Whooping Crane (Grus americana), 14–15 April 2007, near Detroit Lakes, Becker County (record #2007-017, vote 2–5 for each of six adults).

Though observed on two different days, the description was brief and optics were not used. The birds vocalized, but the observer was unable to describe the calls. No field notes were taken and the documentation form was apparently filled out by an individual who did not see the birds.

- Wilson's Plover (Charadrius wilsonia), 26 August 2006, Vineland Bay, Mille Lacs Lake, Mille Lacs County (record #2006-107, vote 2–5).

The documentation for this bird was submitted as a “possible Wilson's Plover” suggesting that the observers were initially unsure of the identification despite referring to field guides during the observation. The large, thick bill of a Wilson's Plover should have caught the observers' attention, but this bird's bill was described as a “long dark bill, mono-colored.” Immature Killdeer with a single breastband was not considered.

- Slaty-backed Gull (Larus schistisagus), 16 December 2006, Black Dog Lake, Dakota County (record #2006-106, vote 0–7).

Documentation for this individual, which was reported on the Bloomington Christmas Bird Count, did not eliminate other species of dark-mantled gulls. An adult Slaty-backed had been seen in this area earlier in the month, but it could not be refound after the 13th (see Accepted record #2006-105).

- Black-headed Grosbeak (Pheucticus melanocephalus), 28 August 2006, southeast of Granite Falls, Chippewa County (record #2006-092, vote 0–7).

Despite being observed for 30 minutes with two female grosbeaks (presumably Rose-breasted), there was no comparison among the three birds and no field notes were taken. The description omitted most of its plumage, including wing linings, and its bare parts were not described.

- Black-headed Grosbeak, 18–20 September 2006, Britt, St. Louis County (record #2006-089, vote 1–6).

One distant image and brief written details were insufficient to eliminate either Rose-breasted Grosbeak (P. ludovicianus) or hybrids thereof. Wing linings were not seen, so the bird could not be aged or sexed; some first-fall Rose-breasted show a whitish belly and nearly unstreaked pale buff breast, very similar to the appearance of this bird in the submitted image.

The efforts of all those observers who document reports of unusual species are greatly appreciated, whether or not the records are Accepted. Accordingly, the Committee acknowledges with thanks those who provided written documentation for one or more of the records listed in this article: Robert Amos, Dave Bartkey, Pat Beauzay, Chris Benson, Dedrick Benz, Andrew Bicek, Thomas Bloom, Brad Bolduan, Jason Bolish, Conny Brunell, Paul Budde, Dave Cahlander, Phil Chu, Shawn Conrad, Nelvina De Kam, Bob Dunlap, Kim Eckert, John Ellis, Bruce Fall, Ben Fritchman, Dave Grosshuesch, Mike Hendrickson, Anthony Hertz, Ross Hier, John Hockema, Bob Janssen, Jeanie Joppru, Doug Kieser, Roger and Laurie Larson, Jim Lind, Bill Marengo, Jim Mattson, Shawne McKenna, Steve Millard, Molly Jo Miller, Mark Ochs, Jim Otto, Jim Pomplun, Al Schirmacher, Nathan Schirmacher, Drew Smith, Shelley Steva, Karen Sussman, Peder Svingen, Dan and Sandy Thimgan, Bill Unzen, Larry Weber, Judith Welu, Ben Wieland, Dennis Wiesenborn, Bob Williams, Steve Yahn, Ben Yobel, and Shawn Zierman. The Committee also thanks the many photographers who submitted images in support of these records.

There were many more observers who provided written documentation and/or photographs for records of Regular species which were not voted on by the Committee. Although such records are not cited here, the efforts of these individuals are greatly appreciated. All observers are encouraged to use the “Request for Documentation Form”, which can be downloaded from the MOU website or filled out online at <http://moum.org/cgi-bin/rqd.pl?op=new>, or to follow its format when preparing narratives; this form was designed to insure that critical information about a record is not omitted.

Please note the following corrections to the August–December 2006 Proceedings (The Loon 79:50–57):

- Change record number to 2006-060 for the Least Tern (Sternula antillarum) at South Landfill Reservoir, Olmsted County, 24 June 2006.

- Change date to 19 August – 3 September 2006 for Glossy/White-faced Ibis at Munnwyler Lake, Big Stone County (record #2006-070).

- Change date to 3–9 September 2006 for Glossy/White-faced Ibis 1.0 mile west of Clinton, Big Stone County (record #2006-078).

The Committee welcomes questions or comments regarding any record in particular or our procedures in general. Please contact Peder Svingen by e-mail at mourc@moum.org or at the address below. Summary: 53 records voted on — 42 Accepted (79%), 11 Not Accepted (21%).
